2.5. Collectively, Defendants CVS, Rite Aid, Walgreens, and Walmart are referred to as “National Retail Pharmacies.”

2.6. The National Retail Pharmacies earned enormous profits by selling prescription opioids. They were aware of the oversupply of prescription opioids through the extensive data and information they compiled and maintained as both distributors and dispensaries.

2.7. The National Retail Pharmacies took no meaningful action to inhibit the sale of excessive amounts of opioids.

2.8. The National Retail Pharmacies conduct substantial business throughout the United States and the State of Louisiana, including the distribution and dispensing of prescription opioids.

2.9. The National Retail Pharmacies compiled and maintained extensive data on opioids they distributed and dispensed. They employed this data to evaluate their own sales and workforce. Through this data, the National Retail Pharmacies knew of patterns and incidents of improper distribution, prescribing, and use of prescription opioids throughout the United States and in Louisiana. The National Retail Pharmacies also compiled data regarding individual doctors and their prescribing practices.

2.10. The extensive data compiled and maintained by the National Retail Pharmacies could have been employed to help stop diversion of opioids, but they failed to do so.

2.11. The National Retail Pharmacies had a duty to prevent diversion of prescription opioids into the illegal market by, among other things, monitoring, and reporting suspicious activity. 21 C.F.R. § 1301.11.

2.12. The National Retail Pharmacies had a duty to “provide effective controls and procedures to guard against theft and diversion of controlled substances.” 21 C.F.R. § 1301.71(a); 21 C.F.R. § 1306.04(a).

2.13. The DEA provided extensive guidance to the National Retail Pharmacies concerning their duties to the public, including how to identify suspicious orders and other evidence of diversion.

2.14. The National Retail Pharmacies had a duty to identify: orders of unusually large size; orders that were disproportionately large in comparison to the population of a community served by the pharmacy; orders that deviate from a normal pattern; orders of unusual frequency and duration; prescriptions written by a doctor who writes significantly more prescriptions (or in larger quantities or higher doses) for controlled substances compared to other practitioners in the area; prescriptions which should last for a month in legitimate use, but are being refilled on a shorter basis; prescriptions for antagonistic drugs, such as depressants and stimulants, at the same time; prescriptions that look “too good” or where the prescriber’s handwriting is too legible; prescriptions with quantities or doses that differ from usual medical usage; prescriptions that do not comply with standard abbreviations and/or contain no abbreviations; photocopied prescriptions; or prescriptions containing different handwriting.

2.15. The National Retail Pharmacies had a duty to detect other indications of diversion through data gathered, consolidated, and analyzed by the National Retail Pharmacies themselves.

2.16. The National Retail Pharmacies had a duty to contact the local Board of Pharmacy and DEA upon finding evidence of prescription diversion.

2.17. The National Retail Pharmacies did not comply with their duties and knowingly permitted widespread diversion of opioids.

2.18. The National Retail Pharmacies inhibited compliance with their duty to prevent diversion of opioid prescriptions by adopting performance metrics and prescription quotas for their retail stores.

2.19. The National Retail Pharmacies failed to adequately train their pharmacists and pharmacy technicians on how to properly handle prescriptions for opioids, including in detection of improper prescribing and diversion of opioids.

2.20. The National Retail Pharmacies failed to adequately employ available data to identify doctors who were writing suspicious volumes of prescriptions and/or prescriptions of suspicious amounts of opioids, or to detect diversion.

2.21. The National Retail Pharmacies failed to analyze: (a) the number of opioid prescriptions filled by individual pharmacies relative to the population of the pharmacy's community; (b) the increase in opioid sales over time; (c) the number of opioid prescriptions filled relative to other drugs; and (d) the increase in annual opioid sales relative to the increase in annual sales of other drugs.

2.22. The National Retail Pharmacies failed to conduct adequate internal or external audits of their opioid sales to identify patterns regarding prescriptions.

2.23. The National Retail Pharmacies failed to effectively respond to concerns raised by their own employees regarding inadequate policies and procedures regarding the filling of opioid prescriptions.

2.24. The National Retail Pharmacies were, or should have been, aware of the excessive quantity of opioids being distributed and dispensed by them.

2.25. The National Retail Pharmacies knew of their failure to abide by state and federal law and regulations governing the distribution and dispensing of prescription opioids.

2.26. The National Retail Pharmacies have been repeatedly penalized for their illegal prescription opioid practices.

2.27. CVS has paid fines in the tens of millions as the result of investigations by the DEA and the United States Department of Justice (“DOJ”) regarding improper practices regarding the dispensing of opioids.

2.28. CVS has been forced to enter into a settlement with the Massachusetts Attorney General wherein CVS agreed to require pharmacy staff to access the state’s prescription monitoring program website and review a patient’s prescription history before dispensing certain opioid drugs.

2.29. Walgreens also has been penalized in the tens of millions for violations of the CSA, including violations involving opioids.

2.30. Walgreens has settled with a number of state attorneys general over the dispensing of opioid prescriptions.

2.31. Walgreens knowingly failed to meet its duties under the CSA even when Walgreens became aware of dramatic increases in the dispensing of opioids and high numbers of opioids dispensed in proportion to the population.

2.32. Rite Aid has also been fined millions for violations of the CSA, after multi-jurisdictional investigations by the DOJ, including regarding prescription opioids.

2.33. State and federal drug diversion prosecutions have involved prescription opioid pills procured from National Retail Pharmacies.

2.34. The National Retail Pharmacies repeatedly and consistently violated their legal duties under the CSA and other laws and regulations that govern the distribution and dispensing of prescription opioids.

2.35. The National Retail Pharmacies knew or reasonably should have known about the disproportionate flow of opioids into Louisiana and the operation of “pill mills” that generated opioid prescriptions that, by their quantity or nature, were apparently for illicit supply and diversion. Combined with additional information from news reports, and state and federal regulatory actions, including prosecutions of pill mills in the area, the National Retail Pharmacies knew or should have known that they were abetting the illegal distribution of controlled substances.

2.36. The National Retail Pharmacies knew or reasonably should have known about the devastating consequences of the oversupply and diversion of prescription opioids, including spiking opioid overdose rates in Louisiana, DeSoto Parish, and DeSoto Fire Protection District No.8 and surrounding areas.

2.37. The National Retail Pharmacies were well aware that their distribution and dispensing activities fell far short of their legal duties.

2.38. The National Retail Pharmacies’ failure to effectively prevent diversion and to monitor, report, and prevent suspicious orders contributed significantly to the opioid crisis by enabling, and failing to prevent, the diversion of opioids.

2.39. Prescription opioids dispensed by the National Retail Pharmacies migrated between cities, parishes, and states. Prescription data from any particular jurisdiction does not capture the full scope of the misuse, oversupply and diversion of opioids dispensed by the National Retail Pharmacies in each jurisdiction.

2.40. The National Retail Pharmacies engaged in actions, as described above, which are unethical, oppressive, unscrupulous, and substantially injurious to Petitioner and to the public.

2.41. The acts and omissions of the National Retail Pharmacies, as enumerated above, constitute unfair or deceptive acts or practices in the conduct of trade or commerce which have been declared unlawful by Louisiana statutes and jurisprudence.

2.42. The National Retail Pharmacies' unfair, deceptive, and unconscionable representations, concealments, and omissions were reasonably calculated to deceive the public, Petitioner's Community, and Petitioner.

2.43. The National Retail Pharmacies unfair trade practices specifically include, but are not necessarily limited to, the following:

- (a) The practice of not monitoring for suspicious orders of prescription opioids;
- (b) The practice of not detecting suspicious orders of prescription opioids;
- (c) The practice of not investigating suspicious orders of prescription opioids;
- (d) The practice of filling, or failing to refuse fulfillment of, suspicious prescriptions for opioids;
- (e) The practice of not reporting suspicious prescriptions for opioids;
- (f) The practice of rewarding increases in prescription opioid sales; and/or
- (g) The practice of falsely misrepresenting to governmental entities and the public that the National Retail Pharmacies were complying with their legal obligations.

2.44. Because of the dangerously addictive nature of these drugs, the National Retail Pharmacies dispensing practices unlawfully caused the opioid epidemic plaguing Petitioner's community. The National Retail Pharmacies had a non-delegable duty to guard against and prevent the diversion of prescription opioids.

2.45. The National Retail Pharmacies are thus in violation of the Louisiana Unfair Trade Practices Act, La. R.S. 51:1401, et. seq.

2.46. Petitioner seeks all remedies available under Louisiana Revised Statutes 51:1401, et seq., including injunctive relief, compensatory damages, applicable civil penalties, treble damages, attorney's fees, and other appropriate relief.
